Welcome to Santosha Yoga:

Thank you for your interest in Santosha Yoga and our teacher training program. The word Santosha in Sanskrit means “contentment” and that is what yoga has brought into my life and that is my hope for you. In this training you will learn about the inner and outer workings of yoga, how yoga really works. The true essence of the meaning of yoga, and in the process, you will find and bring out the pure potential that we all have inside of us. All of us at Santosha Yoga reinforce through our teaching that yoga is for everyone.

I have been practicing yoga since 2000 and teaching since 2006. I have been blessed to have taken both my RYT 200 and RYT 500 teacher training with Michael Johnson of North Carolina. In the past I have studied with Doug Keller, Doug Swensen, Sean Corn and Alan Haras (Bhaktadas Om) of Hamsa Yoga. I have been greatly influenced by Jason Crandell as well as Paul Grilley, Bernie Clark, B.K.S. Iyengar and Sri K. Pattabhi Jois, widely acknowledged as this generation's master of Ashtanga yoga.

As the benefits of yoga are becoming more recognized the opportunity and need for teachers increases. Even you do not plan on teaching; the personal benefits of the teacher training program are plentiful. Please feel free to contact us with any questions.

Coursework:

To benefit and enhance your teaching skills, we require a series of assignments to be completed. These assignments include, yet are not limited to reading books, writing out essays, completing an online A&P course, journaling, oral presentation, meeting with a study partner, practice teaching and so on. Written material must be handed in before completion of course. Students must also complete and pass a written test at the end of the training.

Students are also required to attend two (2) asanas classes taught by director/lead trainer or co-trainer each week during the training weeks as part of the contact hours required by the Yoga Alliance. You will have unlimited class access at Santosha for the duration of the training. Please check our current schedule for the classes that the lead trainer and co-trainer teach.

Six (6) feedback classes are required for each student with at least three (3) being taught with the lead trainer or co-trainer present. They must be one hour in length, contain a philosophical theme and begin with a brief guided meditation and pranayama (breath work). Students will invite their friends and family to attend the feedback classes and afterward have them complete a written feedback questionnaire. The format of questionnaire will be supplied by Santosha Yoga. The required styles of yoga are as followed:

1. Two (2) Ashtanga (modified short form)
2. Two (2) Slow Flow
3. Two (2) Basic /Beginners
4. Students must also assist three (3) classes with the director (subject to change).
5. Students are also required to observe 3 classes being taught (more details later).

Students will also attend a weekend silent retreat at Marysville Retreat Center in Holly Michigan the weekend of December 10 to 12, 2021. More details to follow.

A silent retreat is a rare and wonderful opportunity to dive deeply into awareness of what is true, enduring, unchanging. External and internal silence helps us to recognize this subtle yet continuous undercurrent of the real awareness of what is. Natural settings facilitate our ability to notice the world instead of our mental constructions of the world. A shared group intent formed as individuals practice attunement to reality together raises everyone's ability to pay attention. This group-generated energy is very real, almost palpable. Silence, concentration, lack of distractions, and seriousness of purpose will help guide all students to their awareness of self.
